

Welcome to Rocky Hill Country Day

Founded in 1934, Rocky Hill Country Day is a private N – 12 school located on the Potowomut Peninsula in East Greenwich, Rhode Island, along the beautiful shores of Narragansett Bay.

We believe that our rigorous, high engagement learning experience, set on our expansive waterfront campus, creates an environment that encourages students to think expansively, try new things, and achieve wider possibilities. Each day our students actively engage in real-world problem solving and critical thinking, a process that will equip RHCD Mariners to succeed and impact a complex world.

Our students find themselves not only well prepared for college academics and personal independence, but also for wherever their life's journey takes them. We invite you to reach out and come visit us on campus!

"The heart of what we offer students is the opportunity to imagine, explore, discover. At Rocky Hill Country Day School, we aspire for them to embrace their curiosity, to celebrate the possibility of the unknown, and to boldly follow new adventures."

-Diane Rich, Head of School.

Our mission – Inspiring each other to discover our full selves and use our wisdom for good – drives all that we do.

Points of Pride

- Harkness: At the heart of a RHCD education in the Middle and Upper Schools is communication and the open exploration of ideas and beliefs. Convening around the Harkness™ table allows every student a front row seat to develop appropriate listening skills, self-advocacy, and an appreciation for civil discourse.
- Project-Based Learning: An approach to education that centralizes student-led inquiry while addressing a real world problem with authentic work. This model utilizes the project to drive personally meaningful learning for all students.
- Think Outside: Students are as likely to be in their classroom as they are engaging with the world around them on our nearly 100 field trips each year.
- Seminar: Through mentorship, collaboration, and reflective work, students learn to identify their own needs and gifts as learners and leaders. It includes project-oriented coursework, self-reflection, community-engagement, media literacy, study skills, and college-readiness. Seniors undergo meaningful internships and, as a group, design a “Class Legacy Project.”

The Rocky Hill Way:

- Belief in the value of the arts with full participation through 8th grade and a four-semester requirement in the Upper School.
- Belief in the value of life lessons through team sports and co-curriculars with a two-season requirement per year for students 9-12 and older.
- Mindfulness practice throughout the daily schedule.
- Year round engagement with our waterfront campus, walking trails, and local community.

We prioritize hands-on experiential learning opportunities that are meaningful and purposeful. Our Intensives Schedule in Upper School focuses on 2-3 academic classes per rotation, allowing our students to delve thoroughly into the curriculum.
